George W. Betts, of Lancaster, charged with embezzlement of money of the Adams Express Company has been discharged.

Peter F. Meyer, who is in partnership with Richard Croker in the real estate business, has offered $800,000 for Jerome Park racing property.

Jules Francois Camille Perry, the celebrated French statesman, died of heart disease Friday. At the time of his death he was President of the Senate.

Postmaster General Bissell has repeated the announcement that no one who held a post-office under President Cleveland's first Administration will be reappointed where there is another applicant for the office.

Hon. James P. Gray and Col. J. H. Holloway, of Clark county, aspirants for the State Senate from this senatorial district, were in the city Monday getting acquainted with the people, each giving reasons why he should represent them.

Hon. H. Vansant of Elliott who was appointed as a member of the State Board of equalization by Gov. Brown has declined to accept, since his office of Master Commissioner of Elliott is worth more to him than the former office. The Governor has appointed L. C. Pritchard of Elliott in Mr. Vansant's place.

A few weeks ago a young man by the name of J. W. Hindon, hailing from Greensburg county, was united in marriage to Miss Bettie Perry, a beautiful young lady of Carrollton, Ky. The mother of the bride has just sworn out a warrant against the groom charging him with bigamy, and he now languishes in jail in default of bail.

Captain L. C. Kash, of White Hall, Madison county, was in the city yesterday. The Captain was born a staunch Democrat, has lived one, and will die in the harness. If there is one thing he loves more than another, it is his first and only love, the Democratic party; and if there is anything that gives him most sincere pleasure, it is in dealing a blow at his ancient enemy, the Republican party. We would like to see our friend, the Captain, take in some office under this administration.

Ex-Governor Buckner it has been stated, is preparing to answer the recent letter of Governor Brown. The matter has been clearly stated to the people and it will require a process at law for the matter in question, namely the business transaction between the State and Mason, Ford & Co., to be settled. These representative gentlemen have each had their turn and the people will be satisfied if they can only get their rights. This they demand, nothing more, and our dignified leaders can come to a rest.

A telegram went out Saturday from Morehead to the Louisville Times which indicated a misunderstanding between Judge John E. Cooper circuit court Judge and C. W. Nesbitt commonwealth's attorney in regard to the adjournment of the Bowman county grand jury. The report made it appear that Mr. Nesbitt had ordered the grand jury to adjourn by order of the Judge and that the Judge denied the truth of such an order and that a new grand jury was summoned and ordered to finish up business. Judge Cooper was seen here Monday and says there is no misunderstanding between him and Mr. Nesbitt and that the report in the mails is inaccurate.

story had was the President's journal remark to a Congressman that editors must take their chances with other applicants. In order to impress the falsity of this statement upon Democrats Mr. Cleveland took special care that the first nomination of a postmaster sent to the Senate by him should be that of a Democratic ally—Mr. Robert B. Brown, of Meadville, Pennsylvania.

If there has been any doubt of the wisdom of sending a commission to Hawaii, which has been done by the Administration, it would have been dispelled by the talk of the Hawaiian Commissioners after they learned that a commission would be sent to make an investigation. It is evident that they fear the result of that investigation; consequently the suspicion which has existed for sometime in the minds of a few people, that the whole business has been conducted upon a one-sided basis, is increasing very rapidly. Honest and straightforward people never object to the most rigid investigation of their acts. It is always the other fellow who draws himself up and asks "Do you mean to cast aspersions upon my honor, sir?" President Cleveland only wants what the people want, about this Hawaiian business—the whole truth, and nothing but the truth—and ex-Congressman Blount is just the man to get it.

The best evidence of the confidence of the business men of the country in the Democratic Administration is furnished by the steady increase of gold in the Treasury, which began with the swearing in of the Democratic officials, and has continued right along ever since.

Now that the crowd left here by the inauguration has almost entirely gone, the President and the members of his Cabinet will have more time to devote to their official duties, and the result will be a large number of appointments in the very near future. As soon as all of the Assistant Secretaries in the various departments are nominated and confirmed, the applicants for position under them will have a chance to get their claims considered. It is expected that the Commissioner of Pensions will be appointed before the first of April, as it is known that Mr. Cleveland is particularly anxious for a speedy change in that office.

A Couple of Good-Day Fights.

Joseph Martin and Will Harlin, who live in this county, near the Bourbon line, became involved in a difficulty in A. H. Fletcher & Co.'s saloon yesterday about noon, over the settlement of an account. Martin cut Harlin pretty severely in the arm. Martin was arrested and his trial set for this morning. Harlin had his wound dressed and was not much hindered from moving about except for the loss of blood.

Robert L. Ware, of Clay City, yesterday shot a negro tough, Tom Greenwald, three times, one shot going through the arm, a second making a slight wound in the side and the third entering the hip. Ware claims the negro was one of three who sometimes robbed him in this city. The difficulty seems to have grown out of this. The shooting took place on Locust street near the Monarch Mills, just as a crowd was going to the 1 o'clock train, and for a time caused considerable excitement. Ware was held in $500 bond and his trial set for to-morrow.

Mr. Dan A. Moorman, a large coal dealer, and one of the leading business men of Huntington, W. Va., was in the city the past week, making his annual contract for the famous Davy's Run coal, mined by the Strait Creek Coal Co., of which Judge Cassidy is President.

The Carnegie Steel Company has ordered a new press for its armor plate works at Homestead—an enormous piece of machinery that will cost over $1,000,000—from Whitworth & Co., of Manchester, Eng. It will be the largest piece of machinery of the kind in this country, and perhaps in the world. The press will have a capacity of 19,000 tons.

MRS. MINNIE ALBRO CASSITY.

Died, on Thursday morning, at 12:30 o'clock, Mrs. Minnie Albro Cassity, wife of S. S. Cassity, editor of the Sentinel-Democrat. Mrs. Cassity had not yet reached her twenty-seventh year, and had been a wife for but little more than five years. A gifted woman to whom God had given a much more than ordinarily bright mind she was enabled to write many beautiful and helpful things.

The story of her life and falling asleep the sorrowing husband has so well told, that we copy it from his papers.

It is Finished.

Her poor, tired soul has gone to rest. Her death was peaceful as the sleep of childish innocence; her resignation to the will of God was complete and across her bright hopes—may, her full assurance of life eternal, there flitted no shadow of doubting.

My dear wife, Minnie Albro Cassity—the best friend I had on earth—died Thursday morning, March 16, 1893, after more than five months of prostration and suffering, at the residence of Rev. A. J. Arrick on Queen street, where she was carried Monday by loving hands to escape the terrible fire on Harrison Avenue which wrecked our residence.

She was born August 16, 1868, in Montgomery county, and was the eldest daughter of Geo. C. and Mattie (Albro) Smith. We were married Oct. 18, 1887, and we have three bright sweet children to scatter sunshine upon the cheerless waste which was once our happy home. They were born as follows:

Allice Albro, Jan. 1st, 1889.
John Leroy, July 5th, 1890.
Harriet Lenore, March 1st, 1893.

The latter little angel never knew his mother and was, scarcely known by her; yet I pray God to give me grace, strength and wisdom to rear these children, and to so live myself that we all may be reunited, a happy family on the shadowless shores of that land "beyond the taking, losing and leaving."

As wife, mother and friend she lovingly discharged every duty. She was never very strong, physically, poor girl! but her mind, rich with the spoils of choice literature and useful knowledge, was ever active and to me it was the guidepost to nobler thoughts, the lamp that shone for me upon the path of high resolves and more exalted memory ever linger about me and mine as our guard and guide in every act and thought—our solace in every time of trouble.

It seems to me that it came in the nature of a Providence after all, for her to be removed to the home of that good man and woman, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Arrick. Frequently, during several hours before her death she asked Brother Arrick to pray God that her death should be easy. This he did, and that prayer was answered. She died without a struggle, and in my arms as she had often requested, while Brother Arrick sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul." She frequently asked Bro. Arrick to sing for her, and her request was cheerfully granted. Her favorite song began "The mistakes of my life have been time."

Only a short time before dissolution took place, she said in slow and measured tones: "WHAT LIFE IS TO THE LIVING, DEATH IS TO THE DEAD." I had heard her before in the still watches of the night when there was no one present except our God and myself, say the same thing. If it is a quotation from any book I have never read it.

But all has been said that need be said. Desolation surrounds the hearthstone of our once happy home. The greater light has gone out. Dr. Taulbee and that most excellent young lady, Miss Belle Hamilton, the nurse, did all in their power to lighten the brittle thread. They came to our home not only in the role of their profession, but they came as brother—sister—friend. I have no language to express my deep sense of gratitude to them, and many other kind friends.

Yes the light has gone out, but Oh, God let the light of thy love and grace shine in our sad hearts instead, and help us to meet her young—
S. S. CASSITY.

On Friday afternoon friendly hands tendered her remains to the First Presbyterian Church, where Rev. A. J. Arrick conducted the funeral service, in course of which he paid a glowing tribute to the beautiful life just gone out. All that was mortal of her was laid to rest in Maplehurst Cemetery.

The Greatest of All College Events.

The 6th annual contest of the Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Association will be held in the Opera House at Lexington, Ky., on the evening of April 7th. This contest has always been the crowning event of the year among our Kentucky Colleges; and since the faculty of Kentucky University has allowed the students of that institution to enter the contest, interest has continued to increase, and in the cities where the different colleges are located (Lexington, Georgetown, Danville and Richmond) excitement is unusually high and the friends of the different representatives are enthusiastic for "their man." The contest this year will be under the auspices of Central University.

The Opera House on Short Street, the largest suitable auditorium in Lexington has been engaged; and although the contest is several weeks off, the rush for seats is so great, that we predict that many of the friends of the contestants will be unable to secure seats and witness the battle. The program for this year will be Kentucky University first, Georgetown College second, Centre College third and the last coveted place will be occupied by Mr. Coleman O. Groves, of Central University. Mr. Groves has the "rep" over the other contestants, in that he is an experienced college orator.

Although he is the youngest of the competitors he has spoken on many an oratorical contest and often, after the judges have pronounced him the winner, has been carried off the rostrum upon the shoulders of his numerous friends and "backers."

In the catalogue of Southern college orators he ranks very high, having defeated many who have won Interstate and State inter-collegiate medals, and in the contest next month he will be an almost universal favorite with those who "keep up" with Kentucky oratorical contests and college honors. Mr. Groves is the son of Mr. John E. Groves, Superintendent of Public Instruction of Montgomery county. Quite a crowd of admiring friends from Mt. Sterling expect to go down to hear him proclaimed "champion." Richmond will simply be moved off the map—the people will all go to Lexington and drag the town after them.

The students and citizens will expect a special train, and when the judges pin the medal on Groves they will point Lexington red and white C. U.'s colors.—Richmond Register.

A Card of Thanks.

A number of ministers and prohibitionists met at Pittsburg, Mo., to launch a new political reform party. The platform recognizes God, demands equal rights, without regard to color or sex, suppression of the liquor traffic and all other evils.

Hayseed—Mister Cleveland, I run the post-office in my town in Edmonson county, Kentucky, last time you run the thing I'm here to get you again.

Cleveland—"Can't get it." Hayseed—"For why kain't I?" Cleveland—"Because a man has hold office once can't do so ag'in."

Hayseed—"Then why in the don't you practice 'at yer post?" "What you don't here?"—Louisville Times.

Bacon's Fight for Collector.

A strong fight is being made for appointment of Hon. A. W. Bacon, of Owensville, who wants to be Collector of Internal Revenue of the Southern district, and if he succeeds the entire programme hereinafter proposed for Kentucky internal revenue appointments will be changed. The fight that is being waged by Mr. Bacon's friends is a vigorous and bids fair to be successful. Representative Brockbridge has a card for Collector for the Seventh district, the person of Mr. Shelby, who is Brockbridge's law partner's cause. The struggle between the two candidates is now on in earnest, with Bacon as favorite.—Washington Cur. Lun. Post.

AN HONEST MAN

Surrenders to the Inevitable and Gives up His All to His Creditors.

J. W. Chennault Turns His Property Over to His Creditors.

Honesty and Fairness Exhibited by Both Debtor and Creditor.

Mr. J. W. Chennault, one of our prominent farmers and business men, has, like many another honest and active business man, been overtaken by financial reverses. Some security debts, piled on his own burdens, made the load too heavy for him to carry, and, calling his creditors together, he laid before them a statement of his condition, and suggested it would be better for them to take charge of his affairs, and save his property from being squandered in costs and lawyers' fees. On Thursday the meeting was held, and upon the presentation by Mr. Chennault of the full and exact status of his business, and the statement that his wife and daughter, Mrs. Stella Cockerill, desired to join with him in assigning all interests, actual and prospective, they held a meeting at which an agreement was quickly reached. Mr. Chennault, wife and daughter surrender their all; a farm of 180 acres of splendid land, finely improved, valued at $80 per acre, stock, etc. The creditors agree to take this, give Mr. Chennault a clear receipt and also turn over to Mrs. Chennault and Mrs. Cockerill $3,500 in cash and 40 shares of stock in the E. K. Land Company, together with what may be paid by the J. D. Cockerill estate on some notes on which Mr. Chennault is security.

It is exceedingly refreshing in these days when sorrow and self-interest are so commonly exhibited to see an honest man walk up to his creditors, and make an honest and open-handed settlement with them.

Mr. Chennault's simple-hearted openness and love for his honest name, more than for money, so won on his creditors that they, though several of them belonged to that soulless class we call banks, were willing to meet him half way, and give him a favorable settlement, beyond his expectations. The facts are, that matters are so arranged that an honest debtor gets an honorable discharge from his obligations, and a set of creditors will lose little or nothing, because of their own fairness and liberality, and display of right doing.

Mr. Chennault is well-known in this section, where he has lived all his life. He has been an active farmer and trader, and a few years ago served the county as Sheriff. All hope to see him retrieve his fortunes before he dies.

The Columbian Entertainment.

The ladies belonging to the local Columbian Club gave two very pleasant and really beautiful entertainments at the Masonic Temple on Friday and Saturday evenings. We do not know that we have seen anything more delightfully entertaining than these were. The attendance was large and the proceeds of the two evenings were very gratifying to those who were in charge. The hall was handsomely decorated, and booths erected, with the national colors of the principal nations of Europe at the time of the discovery of America. There, with the stately and handsome dames, and the beautiful girls, elegantly and gracefully costumed, contributed to make the scene a stirring one. Mr. Wm. Reed and Miss Mattie Bridgeforth were happy selections to represent Ferdinand and Isabella, and most regally did they sustain their characters. To go on and particularize all the beautiful things that were to be seen there would be more than our space would permit. This we can say, no town of its size outlay has had a more beautiful and—on an educational standpoint—more successful display than that given by the ladies of our local Club.

The original copy of the Constitution of the United States and of the Declaration of Independence will be exhibited at the World's Fair.

An effort is being made to have the Post office removed from the Levee to Miss Bettie Halaline's store. I can't see the point, as it will discommodate many to accommodate a few.

THE ADVOCATE.

The city school election was held in Keokuk, Iowa, Tuesday. Never before was there ever such interest taken. Two thousands eight hundred and twenty-four votes were cast, more than were ever cast at a Presidential election, and about 2500 more than ordinary at the school elections. The American Protective Association ran candidates for trustees against the Catholic nominees. The A.P.A. had a great majority.

One of the richest strikes ever made in the famous mining camp of Crede, Col., was struck in the Chicago & Crede Consolidated Mining and Milling Company's property Monday. The mineral was encountered in the breast of the 275-foot tunnel in the Silurian belt. The assays show 700 ounces of silver to the ton.

The residents of Jamaica, L. I., were startled, at about 3:10 Tuesday afternoon, by a rumbling sound. This was followed by a shaking of houses, erecories and windows. Many believe the phenomena to have been caused by an earthquake. The Jamaica Town Hall, a large brick and stone building, was shaken and the window rattled about. People at Seilly's Hotel received a severe shock. At the Long Island Railroad Depot windows and doors rattled for some seconds.

When asked if everything would be in readiness by May 1, for the opening of World's Fair, Director General Davis said: "Over 100,000 packages have a ready been received here. Most of these are foreign, but when the domestic displays begin to come they will come in a hurry. The capacity of the installation plan has not been tried in the least. We are ready for the exhibits to get here, and the faster the better. It a big force of men and continuous work can put them in shape the show will be ready by May 1."

A new regulation has been issued by the Civil Service Commission regulating applications for positions in the departmental service. It provides that no application for an examination shall be accepted where the appointment would be charged to the appropriation of a State unless it shall be shown to the Commission that the applicant is at the time, and has been for the six months next preceding, actually living and residing and having his or her place of abode in the State, or that he or she is employed in the public service of said State or United States, or that the applicant pays poll tax or is a voter in said State, or is the wife or minor child of a person who is then in the public service of the said State or of the United States, or pays poll tax or is aforesaid.

The Postmaster General has notified Senators and Representatives that their recommendations will not be sufficient to secure the appointment of postmasters, as he will require in addition some expression from patrons of offices in regard to the fitness of applicants.

The New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company has decided to increase its capital stock to an even $100,000,000. The present outstanding capital is $89,328,000. The increase is to be offered to stockholders of record on June 15, 1893, at par.

Richard Croker, the Tammany chieftain, has purchased a half-interest in the thoroughbred stock of the noted Belle Meade Stud. The price given, out is $250,000, but this is probably more than was really paid, as Mr. Croker did not buy any interest in the farm, which embraces over 4,000 acres.

A special from Atlanta, Ga., to the Courier Journal states that yesterday was the annual pay day for the Confederate pensioners. There are 5,300 names on the roll, and $192,000 was paid out. A bill passed by the Legislature provides for the widows of veterans, and will run the annual pension appropriation up to $600,000. The pension roll, whether State or national, seems to gather volume as the deaths of the veterans increase.—Courier Journal.

Secretary Carlisle is reported to be preparing a financial plan to submit to Congress at the next session that would involve a complete reorganization of the financial system. One feature of the plan is said to be the issue of currency under State charters beneath the general supervision of the Federal Government.

Blasts From the Ram's Horn.

No man is fit for heaven as long as he wants anybody else kept out.

Some shepherds pay the most attention to the fattest sheep.

The world gives nothing in the way of treasure without sending trouble therewith.

Some of the people who are the most anxious about whether we shall know one another in heaven pass each other on the street without speaking.

Some birds are so taken up with their bright plumage as to forget that they have very black feet.

People who wear loud clothes are doing their best to make up for some conscious lack.

The paths of glory lead but to the grave. Very true, master poet, but do paths of ignominy lead anywhere else?

The man who is too poor to take a newspaper always has a dog.

Knowledge is power, but it takes a good deal of it to know how to live without work.

Self-conceit is harder to cure than cancer.

Christ never sent anyone to anybody else who came to him for any kind of help.

It is hard for the shepherd to fatten the sheep that prefer to live on hucks.

A Way Out.

Jack—"Say, Bill, we've been in hard luck lately, ain't we?"

Bill—"We have, old man."

Jack—"I'll tell you what we'll do. You insure your life in my favor for $10,000, and I'll do the same by you."

Bill—"Well, what good'll that do to us?"

Jack—"Why, we'll just load up our guns, and step off thirty paces somewhere and see who gets the money."

Psychological Impulses.

Cholly—"Do you ever have moments when you feel like doing something absurd?"

Myrtle—"Yes, indeed. Why, when you proposed to me last I felt for a moment like accepting."—N. Y. Herald.

Rhode Island's Abandoned Farms.

According to a report from the Commissioner of Industrial Statistics for Rhode Island there are in that State 277 abandoned farms. Upon the majority of these, it is said, even the grass is not out. In the localities of these deserted farms it appears that there is a regular drain upon them for mill help, which has been in good demand; then, many of the farms are re-opened from railroads and good markets.

Horse Breeding.

Horse-breeding is one of the important industries of the country, and of recent years there has been a noticeable increase in the number of well-bred horses. The competition of the West is not felt in the Atlantic States in horse-breeding as in cattle-growing. A fair idea of the relative importance of this industry in the varying sections is given in the reports of the several State agents to the Department at Washington.

It is claimed by the New York State agent that in New York the soil, grass and water produce horses of stronger bone, sounder test and harder muscles than the alkaline soil on which so many Western horses are reared, and that attention is given to the breeding of a finer class of horses for road and carriage purposes. This claim, however, is not admitted by those interested in horse-breeding in the West. Improvement in number and quality of horses is reported in Virginia. The introduction of Hambletonian and other strains of thoroughbred blood has been of great advantage in North Carolina. In the east of Texas, the rule has been to purchase from Tennessee or Kentucky in preference to raising horses, but there are signs of some change in this respect.

A tendency is noted in Texas to improvement through better breeds. Kentucky shows no tendency to reduction of numbers though prices are not satisfactory. Through the Ohio Valley there is little change in number of horses. Horse-raising in Iowa is less absorbing as a rural enterprise than it has been except as to trotting stock. There is a ready sale for well-bred horses in Missouri at a good price, and improvement in quality. In Kansas the supply is greater than the demand except for desirable draught horses. A strong tendency to increase the stock of horses is apparent on the Pacific coast and especially in California.—N. Y. World.

HORSE AND TRACK.

From Four has $40,000 worth of stake engagements.

Among the lucky guessers to Sidney's price, three were ladies.

Electron's fast son, Truman, four years old record, 2:12, will not be brought east this season.

Nancy Hanks trotted thirteen miles last year, the average of which was 2:04.

The Minnesota Senate has passed a bill making the docking of a horse's tail a criminal offense.

W. C. France states that the net profits of Highland Farm from 1887 to 1893 were $203,000.

It is estimated that over 100,000 trotting horses are trained in this country annually.

Fred S. Wilkes, 2:11, will probably be in Scott McCoy's stable this year.

Members, 2:11, will go back into George Starr's stable after a season in the stud—Horse World.

The Ketchikan-Span party sold the stallions Brown, Gotham and Sir Gothard to the Austrian government and will sail for America March 25.—American Sportsman.

The Austrian government extends a cordial greeting to the American trotter and expects to 200 guineas ($8) per head as duty on such horses coming into that country.

A good many people fall to see judgment in entering their horses. They enter a second-class horse at a first-class meeting and fail to get the money, when their would have been a money winner at a smaller meeting.

Governor Flower has signed the Speedway bill, and New York road riders will soon be able to enjoy a fast ride. The drive will be on the west bank of the Harlem, starting at One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street and following the river for about two miles and a half. The estimated cost is $1,500,000.

Marvin is driven on the covered track at Meadville a ten-month-old filly by the Eclipse stallion, Conductor, dam by Wood's Hambletonian and has already stepped the youngster a quarter in 44 seconds. This is certainly phenomenal, and Marvin says that he expects to lower the yearling record with this daughter of Conductor.

An eastern breeder who consigned stock to a combination sale at Kentucky recently has sized up the situation correctly. After arriving at the sale mart with his stock, and observing the prices at which stock was sold, he withdrew his consignment from the sale and bought about two carloads more and shipped them home. He says that now is the time to buy, not to sell.

Some idea of the faultless disposition of Itoy Wilkes, 2:07, and the evenness of his temper may be gathered from the fact that when he was recently posed, in harness, for his portrait, although he had no previously been out of the barn for five weeks and was full of animation, he stood like a lamb with no other restraint than the gentle hand of his owner's five-year-old daughter.

George Winn, a worthless negro of Fayette Mo. convicted of vagrancy, was sold for a period of six months to the highest bidder. This proceeding was in accordance with the vagrant law of that State. R. S. McCampbell, of Glenn Springs, bought the negro for the sum of $20.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

Monday was one of the largest court days Lexington has seen for many years. Butchers' cattle were brisk at 4 cents, and hogs were down to 7 cents. Plenty of mules and pigs, horses on the market and the auctioneers struggled hard to effect sales. Shopping and buying were active.—Gazette.

The money value of the live stock handled at Chicago during 1892 reached $255,000,000, exceeding by $14,000,000 the valuation of any preceding year.

A doctor in Kansas has produced a plant called the "potomato," which is a cross between a potato and tomato, and will yield both fruits, so we are told.

Mr. J. B. Rodes, of Burgin, sold last week to Mr. George Cogar, 40,000 lbs. of old hump and 25,000 lbs. of new hump at $4.75 on the farm. . . W. S. McElduff, of near White Sulphur, sold his crop of tobacco of about 4,000 lbs. to Walker & Co., Georgetown, at 12 cents for three grades and 5 cents for the trash.—Midway Clipper.

Capt. L. C. Kash of White Hall, Madison county passed through here Monday, to Hazel Green to bring back 50 hogs he has bought there. Average over 100 lbs. at 4 1/2 cents. The hogs are to go to Madison.

William Bros. are prepared to do all kinds of the work. They guarantee all work contracted for by them.
